

I would like to voice my opinion that the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law Protection. Indiana's law has improved my time at home by reducing those menacing solicitation calls from like 10 -12 a day to maybe 2-3. I don't feel any co. has the right to force their product/services on anyone -- if I want info on something it should be my choice to find it.